

TORRANCE NABS LITTLE LEAGUE TITLE

Cairns, Gresham Pace 1-0 Victory

Speedballing Jim Cairns tossed his second straight shutout and allowed only a single safety yesterday afternoon as the Torrance American Little League All Stars edged a big Lomita-Harbor City crew, 1-0, for the district flag at North Torrance's Dominguez Field.

Cairns pitched a no-hit, 9-0 win over North Torrance in his last outing. Leftfielder Richard Gresham, a mighty mite with the bat, lined a single to right-center in the top of the fourth to drive in Phil Nicholson with the locals' only run. Nicholson had walked.

The win gave the Americans who won the area, district and sectional titles last year and went all the way to the second round of the Region 8 tourney at Santa Monica, their second straight district title.

Strikes Out 15
Cairns struck out 15 out of a possible 18 in blazing his fast one past the Lomitas. He was nicked for a single in the last of the third by leadoff man Richard Kretschmer. Kretschmer, opposing pitcher, caught a changeup and lined it between short and third for a safety. Cairns struck out the next two men and tossed the last batter out on a grounder.

Three Singles
The winners had a total of three hits, all singles, by Gresham, Bob Kittell, and Nicholson. Cairns, on the mound, now has two tournament wins to his credit, and has given up but one hit and no runs in 12 innings of tourney play.

The American League's next head for Santa Ana and the sectional playoffs. Their first opponents there will be the District 1 champions.

WRESTLING CLUB SET UP AT LOCAL Y

Ted Peckham, wrestling instructor at the local YMCA, has announced that an amateur wrestling club is being formed at the new Y, corner of Washington and Arlington.

All boys between the ages of 12 and 18 will be eligible to join the new organization. Competition within the club, and possible inter-Y matches, will be conducted under AAU regulations.

Peckham, a graduate of Redondo High and former Bay League, CIF, and state light-heavyweight wrestling champion, will be assisted in the instruction of the novice wrestlers by Howard Mann, and Harold Billairede, master wrestling instructor at the San Pedro YMCA.

Reflections

By J. HUGH SHERFVEY, JR.

OPPORTUNITY

Most of us are slaves to habit. We do what our neighbors do, slavishly follow the crowds, make life a burden for those around us, leave home on the minute and arrive back again at a precise time; our newspaper is good or bad according to our concept of sports or sensational journalism. We are so immersed in habits that opportunity for better things can't squeeze in.

Opportunity is a NEW IDEA. We plant a seed; it must germinate in warm earth. It must be filled, nurtured and eventually it will produce a harvest. Opportunity is like that seed; first it is an idea, you take it to your heart, nurture it, warm it with care and industry and eventually you have a harvest.

To be a slave to habit is to be in a rut. Be still. Listen to that idea. Take it to your heart. Nurture it. There is opportunity, waiting to sprout, grow and give you a bountiful harvest.

P.S. — Every religious creed is carefully, reverently followed.

4-2 LOSS TO L-HC ELIMINATES NATS

National errors and an inability to master the pitches of Lomita-Harbor City's hurler, Kenny McIntyre, resulted in the elimination of the National All-Stars from the district finals for a 4-2 count at Dominguez Field, Friday evening. The contest was a close-played affair from the start with the pitchers mastering the batters, McIntyre giving up two hits, while the Nationals' Pete Moore was tapped for two and his replacement, Howard Taylor, allowed one.

Moore was the first player at bat in the game and got on first on an error, then moved to second on another miscue, they scored on Steve McGuire's single into center field.

Lead Lost
The lead was short lived, however, as the L.H.C. club came back in their half of the frame with two runs on a double, by McIntyre, and a pair of National errors.

Torrance was unable to move a man past second in the second frame. Terry Greason walking to first then moving down on a wild pitch, while Lomita-H.C. racked up two more scores in their half, on Mike Savidon's single and two more local errors.

Moore Scores
In the top of the third Moore again scored, getting on with a walk then coming all the way home on Larry Anderson's double. Anderson was called out at third trying to stretch the two sacker into a triple, which ended the scoring for the inning and the game.

The Nationals had a chance to take the game in the fifth inning as McIntyre lost his control and walked three men, but two fine catches by Savidon and Jack Hays, crushed the uprising.

Again in the final frame McIntyre weakened, but with the tying runs on, and a 1-1 count on the batter grooved the last two pitches for called strikes to retire the side, and the National All-Stars from tourney play.

Rogers Hurls 13-0 Win For Bluette Club

Recent play in the Recreation Department's Girl Softball League was highlighted by a near perfect game pitched by Betty Rogers of the National Bluettes over the Bruins, won by the Bluettes 13-0.

Betty struck out 13 of the 16 batswomen to face her, walking only one, while her team mates plastered the Bruins pitching for 11 hits.

She also hit a home run for what would have been the winning margin even if the other Bluettes had been held scoreless.

The Hot Shots shot the works against the Trojans and ran up a 24-10 count to hand the losers their first loss of the season.

Lynette Williams homered and tripled for the winners, while Marlene Hanson and Marlee Gluesing doubled. Ada Dot Hayes hit the only extra base blow for the Trojans, a double.

In other games the Duffers tromped the Alphas 19-4 on a triple by Jimmy Rassum, and another homer by Caroline Eubanks, while the Esabs shut out the Stripes 7-0.

Salton Sea Record Set

Richard Easton, Westmoreland sport fisherman, has become the first person ever to make a verified hook-and-line catch of an ocean corvina from Imperial Valley's Salton Sea.

Research biologists working on the California Wildlife Conservation Board project to establish a sport fishery on Salton Sea recently reported that Easton scored his history-making catch late in June at the mouth of Salton Creek, using a shrimp for bait. They report two more verified catches have been made since then.

H. A. Chemnitz, 523 Judy Drive, Redondo Beach, took the second Salton Sea corvina using a bass plug for his lure. Easton scored again early in July, using shrimp. The first two fish taken weighed just under a pound, and the third weighed approximately two pounds. All three fish were examined by the project biologists.

The National Blues stayed within tying distance of the Fire team with a 12-8 win over Local 1135. With the two games included, Dept. A must lose both and the Blue win two for a tie. Any combination of a Fire win, or Blues loss will give Blue Streak first place to the pace-setters.

Local 1135 took a short lived 3-4 lead in the fifth inning on hits by Charles Waite, Sl Whitman, Angel Solis, Cy Bailey, Ed Lochmis, and Richard Garcia. The Blues came back with 8 runs in the sixth, while Mike Michael, Mel Swanson, Al Tipton, Wally Williams, Scott Albright and George Ahrendt, doing the hitting for the win, Wednesday.

TAKING CUT... Ray Walker, Torrance American lead-off man, swishes air when he takes swing as first batter up in game. He later grounded out. Americans relied on one-hitter by ace Jim Cairns and timely hitting of Richard Gresham in turning back Lomita-Harbor City yesterday, 1-0, for district title. It was Torrance's fourth straight win in tournament play. Walker and Cairns each have notched a pair of victories on the mound.

Americans Dump Peninsula 6-1

Torrance's American All-Stars moved into the Little League District finals on the three hit-pitching of Ray Walker with a 6-1 win over the Peninsula All-Stars Thursday at Dominguez Field.

Walker's pitching job was supported by Jim Cairns' three hits, including a double at the plate, and a land slide of stolen bases coming from Tom Standley, Phil Nicholson, Doug Perry, Bob Kittell, and Cairns.

Come From Behind
The Americans were forced to come from behind for the win as Peninsula pushed across a run in the first inning, and held the locals scoreless until the third.

In the third batting power was stressed as the Americans slugging order, Kittell, Cairns, Standley, and Nicholson, came to bat. Kittell singled and went to second as Cairns singled, both scoring on Standley's double, who went to third on the play at home, and then scored on a steal.

Nicholson Walks
Nicholson was walked, as was Perry, both moving to scoring position via the stolen sack route. Nicholson then came home or Appleby's single.

The four runs scored in the big third were enough for the win, though two more were added in the fourth when the top of the order made another appearance at the plate.

Kittell Singles, Steals
Kittell singled, stealing second and scoring on Cairn's double, who moved to third on Nicholson's single, then scored on Perry's double.

Following the first inning score, Walker was in complete control of the game, allowing but two, well separated hits, facing only 17 batters in the last five innings.

Random Ramblings

By ROGER BOEDECKER

Inasmuch as next week end will be rodeo time in Torrance, I thought it might be worth while to brief the local novice fans on what they might be seeing in and around the main arena.

According to the Rodeo Cowboy's Assn. there are five standard events of competition in all rodeos, including saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling, and bull riding.

Calf roping is probably the least deadly of all the events. Skill and speed are stressed in the race down the ring, the cast of the loops, and the rapid tie. Most apt to be injured is the contestant's pride, if the calf to be roped turns out to be one of those shifty, low-type calves that skitter and dodge all over the place, requiring a long and embarrassing chase around the arena.

In steer wrestling all the cowboy has to do is dive from a galloping horse over the horns of a running steer, then grab those same horns and toss the reluctant beast on its side. Not much of a challenge if you have a complete disregard for life and a few limbs.

The final standard event is bull riding, a sport which probably would never catch on among bull fighting aficionados. The riders are mounted, temporarily, on immigrant-type Brahma bulls. The ride lasts eight seconds, sometimes, and is only the first part of the rider's adventures.

The getting off and to safety part of the event often provides more excitement than the actual ride.

All in all, the action going on in the arena will be some of the toughest to hit Torrance since the RCA cowboys and the rodeo animals mixed it up last year.

Ladies Play Baseball?
Mothers of the Seaside and Meadowpark area recently staged a baseball game for the benefit of their Little League sons.

Some confusion was evident in the type of equipment to use as the female players employed tennis racquets, footballs, soccer balls, scrub boards, pails and mops for hitting and throwing during the contest.

The mothers were clad in long underwear, ballerina costumes, and miscellaneous other non-uniform costumes for the game.

After two innings of close play, the Slenderella Garter Girls settled for a 2-2 draw with the Bandini All Scout Twinkletoes nine.

SANS SADDLE... Bronc riding, without saddle and sometimes rider, will be one of the events featured at the 1956 Torrance Rodeo, Aug. 11 and 12. The rider can't touch any part of the horse with his free hand, but there are no regulations governing the actions of the bronc as it tries to dump the rider.
